NOTES

- ¹ Paper 105 (Philosophy of Science and Philosophy of Psychology and Neuroscience) will last be examined in Trinity Term 2012. After this it will be replaced by paper 125 (Philosophy of Cognitive Science).
- ² This lecture series has had to be cancelled. Podcasts of a previous instance of this series are available at <http://podcasts.ox.ac.uk/series/kants-critique-pure-reason>.
- ³ This is a course of lectures covering topics which appear on the syllabus for the relevant finals paper. Each lecture will be followed by a thirty-minute discussion session which, it is hoped, will help cement students' understanding of the topics. The lecture series is not a "core lecture" for the paper.
- ⁴ The Faculty is most pleased to present the 2012 John Locke Lectures, given by Professor Stephen Yablo. For more information, including the series abstract and individual lecture titles, please consult the Lecture Prospectus.
- ⁵ For more details, please contact the Conveners.
- ⁶ The arrangements for this term's Post-Kantian Philosophy Seminar vary from the normal arrangements; those interested are encouraged to contact the organisers, Dr Manuel Dries and Dr Joseph Schear, so as to be added to the mailing list.
- ⁷ This event is not open to undergraduates. For the term's arrangements, please visit <http://users.ox.ac.uk/~twip/>.
- ⁸ For the term's speakers, please visit http://www.philosophy.ox.ac.uk/lectures/future_seminars.
- ⁹ This event is intended for graduate students only. Other interested parties should contact the class-giver.
