

oxford public philosophy

a journal for critically questioning what philosophy is and how we are doing it turn 2 of opp turns to converse around and between any or all of the following sub-themes:

- African(a) philosophies
- South Asian philosophies
- the value(s) of our education we invite contributing participants to submit poetry, artwork, and/or any argumentative or creative prose, to explore any combination of these sub-themes in dialogical acts to expand philosophy's field of concern, in form and in content, as we encounter it from our various positions in the world.

find guidelines for all areas on our website:
oxfordpublicphilosophy.com/t2-submissions

