⁴ This is the lecture associated with the special subject: a class will be arranged and advertised separately. The class will be available only to students enrolled on the option, but anyone may attend the lectures.
